CPR/AED certification must be valid on and after the designated renewal date of the NETA certification to be renewed. For more information about acceptable CPR/AED certifications, please see NETA's CPR/AED Certification Provider Reference Guide located on NETA's website.

Dear NETA-Certified Exercise Professional:

Enclosed you will find your Recertification Handbook and Application. The packet includes important information about recertification, guidelines for using this packet, and changes to recertification requirements.

Please note that the NETA website (www.netafit.org) has the most up-to-date information on recertification as well as many other key topics.

The website makes it easy to stay current with continuing education workshops and home study opportunities.

The purpose of the NETA-CB recertification policy is to enhance the continuing competence of certificants.

We choose a system that requires a minimum of twenty (20) continuing education credits (CECs) and maintenance of current cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) certification (for both Group Exercise Instructors and Personal Trainers) and automated external defibrillation (AED) certification (for Personal Trainers only). NETA only accepts CPR and CPR/AED certifications that include a live hands-on skill assessment. The NETA-CB will automatically recognize and accept CECs that are pre-approved by the National Exercise Trainers Association (NETA), the American Council on Exercise (ACE), the National Academy of Sports Medicine (NASM), or the Aerobics and Fitness Association of American (AFAA). We believe this system provides certificants with an incentive to pursue a program of individual professional development through continuing education activities (e.g., workshops, seminars, home study courses) that have already met minimum quality criteria. Activities of this nature enhance continuing competence by: 1) reinforcing basic principles; 2) communicating information about changes in the knowledge, skills, and techniques that are associated with best practices; and 3) educating certificants about future trends. Additionally, requiring current CPR/AED certification ensures that certificants have maintained competence in this important skill. Our Certification Board is satisfied that these requirements provide reasonable evidence of maintaining an acceptable level of continuing competence without placing an undue burden on the certificant.

In addition, NETA-CB noted that a 2004 NOCA (presently known as the Institute for Credentialing Excellence) poll question indicated that 51% of the respondents relied primarily on continuing education to recertify candidates. Until we find evidence of a more effective method for promoting continuing competence, we will rely upon this system embraced by our peers and most certification programs in other disciplines. The NETA-CB will periodically review this policy to ensure that our recertification procedure contributes to the desired outcome.

NETA Certified Exercise Professionals must recertify every two (2) years. This ensures that NETA-CB certified professionals are current with best practice guidelines and the specific knowledge, skills, and abilities described in the most recent job task analysis (i.e., role delineation) as well as rapidly evolving and advancing knowledge in the fitness industry.

I. Recertification

A. Rationale for Continuing Education and Recertification

A candidate's baseline knowledge at the time of initial certification may have a particular 'shelf life.' This is related to the erosion of knowledge (i.e., forgetting, knowledge decay, knowledge attrition, and 'disuse atrophy') due to lack of regular reinforcement. In addition, knowledge and skill possessed at the time of initial certification may also become outdated or even obsolete as industry guidelines, best practices, and the science of exercise evolve.

Dating back to 1967, the National Advisory Committee on Health Manpower recommended that professional associations take steps to ensure the maintenance of competence in health professionals.<sup>1</sup> Continuing education (CE) provides a mechanism to maintain competence and prevent obsolescence. Therefore, NETA-certified exercise professionals must engage in regular continuing education activities in order to maintain a minimum level of acceptable competence and to advance their knowledge and skill beyond that of an entry-level practitioner.

A number of empirical studies have investigated the time course and magnitude of knowledge decay. In a review study of long-term retention of basic science knowledge, Custers concludes that approximately two-thirds to three-fourths of knowledge will be retained after one year, with a further decrease to slightly below fifty percent in the second year.<sup>2</sup> A more recent study conducted by Wilhelmsson and colleagues reveals similar findings. In this study, students' scores on a re-examination of basic sciences declined substantially over a period of three years, with scores averaging 60% of the initial exam score.<sup>3</sup> In addition, if presented as a percentage of total score, the average follow-up exam score was just 39%, with only one student passing the re-examination.<sup>3</sup> To date, no studies have specifically addressed the retention of baseline knowledge among exercise professionals; however, the overwhelming majority of scientific literature supports a non-linear decline (e.g., Ebbinghaus curve) with regard to retention of knowledge. Therefore, it is reasonable to conclude that similar knowledge decay affects exercise professionals.

The dynamic nature of the fitness industry is reflected by an ever-growing body of exercise science research, regularly-updated industry standards and guidelines, and evolving evidence-based best practices. For example, the 'gold-standard' publication, ACSM's Guidelines to Exercise Testing and Prescription, has been updated and re-published at regular intervals since the first edition was released in 1975 (e.g., 2nd, 1980; 3rd, 1986; 4th, 1991; 5th, 1995; 6th, 2000; 7th, 2005; 8th, 2010, 9th, 2014, 10th, 2017). In addition, in accordance with federal law, the Dietary Guidelines for Americans policy document has been updated and re-published every five years since 1980. Furthermore, countless position statement and consensus papers relevant to exercise professionals are updated and/or published frequently.

In consideration of the well-documented phenomenon of knowledge decay, and the expanding and evolving body of exercise science literature, it is both appropriate and practical to require recertification of NETA-CB credentials every two (2) years, during which time certificants must earn a minimum of twenty (20) continuing education credits (CECs) to substantiate learning activities.

B. Recertification Process

1. Both the NETA-CB's Group Exercise Instructor and Personal Trainer certifications are valid for two (2) years. To renew NETA-CB credential, certificants must complete a minimum of twenty (20) NETA-CB approved continuing education credits (CECs) between the certification date of issue and the designated expiration date.
2. A 180-day reinstatement grace period within which to complete recertification is provided should an extension beyond the designated expiration date be necessary; however, higher renewal fees will apply (see page 4). Please note: although a 180-day grace period is provided, a certification that is allowed to lapse beyond the designated expiration date is considered expired and invalid. Therefore, NETA-certified professionals are strongly encouraged to complete the recertification process prior to the designated expiration date. If a certification remains at expired status beyond the 180-day grace period, then the candidate must retake and successfully pass the certification exam in order to regain their status as a NETA-certified professional.
3. In addition to NETA-approved CECs, the NETA-CB accepts any job-related CECs that are pre-approved by the American Council on Exercise (ACE), the National Academy of Sports Medicine (NASM), or the Aerobics and Fitness Association of American (AFAA). Note: ACE CECs and NASM CEUs are preceded by a decimal point. For example, 0.3 ACE CECs or 0.3 NASM CEUs are equivalent to 3.0 NETA CECs. The certificate of completion for each course must include at minimum: the name of course, date of completion, organization(s) awarding the CECs, number of CECs awarded, course number assigned by CEC provider(s) (i.e., ACE, NASM, and/or AFAA), and the recipient's name.
4. If more than the minimum required twenty (20) CECs are accumulated within a 2-year recertification period, those additional credits may NOT be carried over and applied toward a future recertification cycle.
5. To insure that you maintain a valid certification, please mail your renewal application, renewal fee, documentation of CECs earned, and a copy of valid adult CPR (for Group Exercise Instructors) or CPR/AED (for Personal Trainers) card (front & back) or certificate at least 30 days prior to your designated expiration date. NETA only accepts CPR and CPR/AED certifications that include a live hands-on practical skills evaluation. CPR/AED certification does not provide CECs toward renewal of your NETA-CB certification(s). CPR/AED certification must be valid on and after the designated renewal date of the NETA certification to be renewed. Please send all of the renewal information in one packet. Do not send forms singularly. If you have a change in your mailing address, or if you receive duplicate correspondence at the same address, please call NETA at 1-800-237-6242.
6. NETA staff accepts recertification applications up to 90 days before certification expiration. The designated staff person reviews all recertification packets utilizing the checklist below:
  - Is the application complete?
  - Is correct payment included?
  - Does the applicant report the correct number of CECs?
  - Are the CECs supplied from the list of approved providers?
  - Does the applicant supply a copy of a current cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) certification and automated external defibrillator (AED) certification (Personal Trainers only)?
  - Does the applicant supply verification of CECs completed?
  - Is there a petition included in the application packet?

7. All continuing education activities must provide knowledge, skills, and abilities beyond an entry-level, and fall within the performance domains as defined by the most recent Job Task Analysis / Role Delineation Study for the applicable credential.
8. Once the candidate's recertification application packet is reviewed for content, the application is then added into the applicant's account. The Recertification Coordinator then deposits the payment and prints and mails:
  - a congratulatory letter to candidate informing them of the recertification application acceptance,
  - an updated certification, and
  - a new recertification packet.
9. If applications are incomplete (e.g., applicant does not have the correct number of CECs, CECs are not from the NETA-CB accepted provider list, applications do not contain the proper payment amounts, or applications do not include current CPR/AED certification), then the applicant will receive a phone call and a letter via mail from the NETA-CB informing them of their status. Applicants are given 30 days to re-apply before they are assessed a late charge.
10. Applicants who did not obtain CECs from an approved provider will be sent a course petition application.
11. Late recertification applications are accepted up to 180-days post expiration and applicants are assessed a late fee. Certifications allowed to lapse past the 180-day grace period are ineligible for recertification. Candidates must complete the eligibility application process, retake, and pass the certification exam in order to regain their status as a NETA-certified professional.

B. Continuing Education Course Petition Process

1. Certified health/fitness professionals who do not earn continuing education credits (CECs) from NETA or the NETA-CB approved provider list (ACE, NASM, AFAA) must submit a petition application including required documentation and petition fee for each job-related course they would like considered for CEC approval.
2. Job-related health/fitness college-level courses may be petitioned and will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis for CEC approval. As a general rule, health- or fitness-related college and university courses completed with a grade of 'C' or higher will be awarded 5 NETA CECs per class credit. For example: a 3-credit college/university class equals 15 NETA CECs.
3. The CEC Petition Application may be found on page 8 or downloaded from NETA's website at www.netafit.org. Each petition must include:
  - a completed NETA-CB CEC Petition Application,
  - a $15.00 non-refundable petition processing fee for each course,
  - a certificate of completion the name of course, date of completion, organization(s) awarding the CECs, number of CECs awarded, course number assigned by CEC provider(s), and the recipient's name,
  - detailed outline or course syllabus listing times and topics covered,
  - if a home study course, a copy of the table of contents, outline of the course, and course objectives, and
  - the course instructor's resume including educational history and other relevant credentials.

C. NETA-CB Petition Review Process

1. The petition process may take up to 7-14 days upon receipt. Once received, petition applications are reviewed for the following:
  - Is the application complete with all necessary documentation?
  - Is the correct payment included?
2. After initial review, the Recertification Coordinator evaluates the course information to determine whether or not the course represents the relevant knowledge, skills, and abilities as outlined by the most recent Practice Analysis / Role Delineation Study.
3. Course instructor qualifications are reviewed as well. Course instructors must have at least one of the following for their course to be accepted:
  - Bachelor's degree or higher in a health/fitness related field (e.g., exercise science, kinesiology, exercise physiology), or
  - Current nationally-recognized and NCCA-accredited fitness certification in good standing.
4. Petitioned courses that do not meet the standards as stated above will not be approved or recognized for CECs.

D. Notice of Acceptance or Denial

NETA-CB certified health/fitness professionals will be contacted via phone and postal letter announcing the outcome of the petition. Health/fitness professionals whose petitioned courses are accepted will have their application processed and information added to their accounts. NETA-CB certified health/fitness professionals who are denied will be granted 30 days without late fee to acquire the necessary CEC's for recertification.

E. Recertification CEC Petition Denial Appeals Process

Candidates who are denied a petitioned continuing education course application and wish to appeal may do so within 30 days of notice of a denied application. Those who appeal a denied application will be assessed an administrative fee. Appeals are forwarded to the Certification Director and Certification Board Appeals Committee. This process requires 60 days during which the applicant appealing the decision is granted a grace period and is not assessed a late fee for recertification. Each course may only be appealed once. The Certification Board Appeals Committee shall be comprised of three certified professional representatives and shall meet as deemed necessary either by phone, person or electronic means. Each committee member shall receive a copy of the appeals application, petition application, and administrative review form. Once a decision is determined, the applicant will be notified via phone and mail. All decisions handed down from the Appeals Committee are deemed final and cannot be appealed again.

F. Certification Board Appeals Committee

The Certification Advisory Council Appeals Committee shall be a non-standing committee, formed upon necessity but governed by the NETA-CB Bylaws for standards and procedures of meetings and actions. The committee shall be comprised of three certified professional representatives, each representative of the individual educational tracks. Upon meeting, the Appeals Committee shall review the appeals application and all relevant material for consideration. Once reviewed, a majority vote in favor of acceptance is required for approval. If a majority vote does not exist, the appeal will be denied. All decisions handed down from the Certification Advisory Committee Appeals Committee are deemed final.

G. Recertification Fees

|--------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| Prior to certification expiration date:                | $55.00 |
| 1 to 90 days past the certification expiration date:   | $70.00 |
| 91 to 180 days past the certification expiration date: | $85.00 |

Note: Greater than 180 days past the certification expiration date: candidate must retake and successfully pass the certification exam in order to reinstate their NETA certification.

H. Continuing Education Credit (CEC) Limitations

The continuing education credits (CECs) earned for a specific activity (e.g., workshop or course as identified by a unique course or item number) may be applied only toward the renewal of a specific NETA credential (e.g., Group Exercise Instructor, Personal Trainer) once during a candidate's lifetime. Candidates are welcome to repeat specific continuing education activities as desired, but the CECs earned from a specific workshop or course may be applied only once toward the renewal of a particular certification. It is permissible to apply CECs earned from a specific continuing education activity toward the renewal of both the NETA Personal Trainer and Group Exercise Instructor certifications; however, again a specific course or item number may be applied only once toward renewal of a particular certification.

The continuing education credits (CECs) granted for completion of NETA's Group Exercise Instructor or Personal Trainer certification review workshops, whether attended prior to or after the initial date of certification, cannot be applied toward the renewal of the same certification. For example, the six (6) NETA CECs granted for attending the Group Exercise Instructor certification review workshop are not applicable toward the renewal of the Group Exercise Instructor certification. Similarly, the fourteen (14) NETA CECs granted for attending the Personal Trainer certification review workshop are not applicable toward the renewal of the Personal Trainer certification.

II. NETA-CB Professional Code of Ethics

The following code of conduct is designed to assist certified health fitness professionals of the National Exercise Trainer Association to maintain - both as individuals and as an industry - the highest levels of professional and ethical conduct. This Code of Professional Conduct reflects the level of commitment and integrity necessary to ensure that all NETA-CB certified health/fitness professionals provide the highest level of service and respect for all colleagues, allied professionals and the general public.

A. Professional Code of Ethics

The NETA-CB health/fitness professional must be aware of and practice the standards of ethical behavior of their profession as follows:

11. Establish and practice clear professional boundaries.
12. Avoid engaging with any behavior or conduct that could be construed as a conflict of interest or reflects adversely on the fitness profession, NETA, or the NETA-CB.
13. Represent credentials and certifications in an honest, accurate, and appropriate manner.
14. Strive to protect the public from those who misrepresent the health and fitness professions or are in direct violation of this code of ethics by communicating concerns with the NETA-CB.

B. Professional Practices and Disciplinary Policies

The NETA-CB has approved the following circumstances, if clearly proven, as grounds for certification revocation or rendering an applicant ineligible for certification:

1. Any irregularity in connection with the administration of a NETA-CB certification exam, exam materials, or interfering with an exam applicant.
2. Unauthorized use or possession of copyrighted NETA-CB certification exam, logo, educational materials, or other NETA-CB materials.
3. Any health condition (including but not limited to substance abuse) that renders the certified professional from performing his or her function in a competent, professional manner.
4. Failure to earn sufficient continuing education credits (CECs) or pay the appropriate recertification fees within the time period allowed.
5. A conviction of a felony directly related to public health, fitness training, or competent professional performance. Such crimes may include but are not limited to; any weapons charges, deviant sexual behavior and possession, use or sale of illegal controlled substance.
6. Negligence or intentional misconduct, such as sexual harassment, unauthorized release of confidential information or failure to maintain a safe training environment, while performing professional duties.

C. Failure To Abide By the NETA-CB Professional Code of Ethics

If an individual knows that a NETA-CB certified-professional has not abided by one or more provisions of the NETA-CB Professional Code of Ethics, he/she may submit a complaint in writing outlining which provision(s) were violated along with documentation of the claim.
